Building the Best Construction Lawyers

Dear Colleagues:

The Forum invites you to the pristine and calm aquamarine waters of Paradise Island, Bahamas for the Mid-Winter 2014 Meeting – Unveiling the Mysteries: Building a Better Construction Lawyer Through Best Practices and Technology – The Atlantis Experience. The ancient-themed, modern resort of Atlantis is a truly spectacular location for our two-day program focused on building a better construction lawyer through best practices and the use of technology for the construction lawyer.

The program includes sessions on best practices in both construction risk management and arbitration, as well as recovery schedules, litigation holds, litigation budgets, and ethical issues arising as a result of data stored in today's smartphones, tablets and The Cloud. Attendees will also learn about innovative software and technology to assist litigators tackle complex construction matters, insurance products to reduce technology-related risks, and technological advances for use on construction sites. A great value for both in-house and outside counsel, the program will feature presentations on Visualization—the latest application on schedule delay and change order analysis, and Mind Mapping—software to track complex relationships between witnesses, documents and burdens of proof.

Following the Forum's latest tradition, Thursday's Division-hosted lunch meetings offer a selection of construction law topics with the opportunity to network in a smaller setting. Time is also allotted for a variety of networking events, including division activities, breakfast meetings, and a Welcome Reception on the resort's Royal Deck.

Let the mystery and beauty of Atlantis capture you. An ideal venue for the Midwinter meeting, the family friendly Atlantis Resort is located on Paradise Island near Nassau in The Bahamas. Swim with dolphins and sea lions, feel the breeze while on the green, relax by the pool, shoot the water slide with the sharks, and remember to have your passports ready well in advance of your flight.

Enjoy the wonders of the Bahamas at a world class resort while attending a great educational program!

Capture the Imagination with Visualization: The Hottest Trend in Construction Scheduling and Change Order Analysis

The hottest trend in schedule delay analysis and change order analysis is Visualization. Visualization leverages the power of "A picture is worth a thousand words" by integrating the CAD-type design/engineering/LIDAR databases with the Project Baseline, Updates and final As-Built versions of the schedule to produce a chronologically-correct, screen-based, visual image or movie of the physical project under construction at any point in time. These virtual images survive rebuttal as they match contemporaneous documentation, including date-stamped photographs, the plans, sketches, etc.
