Finding Common Ground in Drafting and Negotiating Design and Construction Clauses

February Locations

March Locations

SPACE IS LIMITED. REGISTER NOW.

This program has been approved for CLE and AIA credit.

On February 26, 2016 and March 4, 2016, the ABA Forum on Construction Law will present in six cities across the country, “Construction Contracts: Finding Common Ground in Drafting and Negotiating Design and Construction Clauses.” The design and construction concepts covered apply to projects ranging from a personal residence to complex infrastructure improvements.

Taught by leading construction lawyers in each locale, this program presents a unique opportunity for new construction lawyers, and even experienced lawyers who occasionally practice construction law, to learn contract essentials from those who practice in this area on a daily basis and at its highest levels. The program concisely covers contract negotiations and risk shifting, differing site conditions, payment provisions, damages, contract administration, indemnity and insurance provisions, and termination, claims and dispute procedures. This affordable, conveniently located program provides an excellent way for firms and companies of all sizes to provide an exceptional training opportunity to their lawyers, project managers, design professionals, and contract administrators.

Tuition includes a full day of instruction and CLE and AIA Credits, program materials, a copy of the Construction Contracts book, and lunch.
