Elias Russell:
Latah County Deputies are again looking for Elias Russell. Russell ran away from his home in Potlatch on January 31, 2005. He was found and detained on March 12, 2005, but escaped electronic monitoring on March 17, 2005. Although there are rumors that Russell ran away to avoid physical abuse, deputies and agents from Health and Welfare have never been able to sustain any claims. Additionally, in the most recent interview with Russell, he told authorities that he was not being physically abused by either of his parents. Although no charges have yet been filed against people harboring Russell or concealing material information from authorities during his flight, deputies are actively investigating the case.
