

Not On The Palouse, Not Ever | Edit Profile | Sign out | Help

Right Mind

News & Op-Ed Commentary from The People's Republic of Moscow (Idaho) -- Pullman's Bed and Breakfast Community

Investment in beliefs

The following letter to the editor appeared in today's Moscow-Pullman Daily News:

*In response to Bill London's letter to the editor of Oct. 25, I would like to point out the fact that the Moscow Civic Association endorsed candidates have raised more in contributions than the Greater Moscow Political Action Committee.

- Tom Lamar over $6,000,
- Aaron Ament over $6,000 and
- Linda Paul $2,700.
- A total of 65 contributors ranging for $100 to $500.

This looks like a who's who of the MCA, I don't think it is appropriate to publish the names. I think it's great for people to think enough of their beliefs in the community to invest their money.

Jim Anderson, treasurer GMPAC, Moscow

Jimmy isn't publishing the names. But I will be.

It's public record. And it's important that my readers realize who is supporting the candidates.

Standby...

Published Saturday, October 27, 2007 10:31 AM by Right-Mind ★★★★★

Comments

No Comments

Copyright © 2007 Right Mind

