

Community Environmental Legal Defense Fund
& Wild Idaho Rising Tide present

Moscow Democracy School Workshop

How can public officials “permit” unfavorable industrial development, processes, & pollution that destroy communities & shared resources?

We the People

→ not “Them the Corporations.”

How has the American constitution been reinterpreted & laws enacted to shift power & civil rights to “corporate persons” from people they overrule & impact?

Spokane CELDF organizer Kai Huschke

will explore remedies to state & federal government enforcement of corporate rights to extract natural & financial resources from citizens & communities in Idaho & across the country. Discover how people from Maine to Washington are working through their municipal governments to legally enforce economic & environmental sustainability. Design plans for pro-active city or county laws that protect people & places. Advance workshop initiatives by attending an optional, comprehensive Democracy School in Spokane on Friday & Saturday, April 6 & 7.

Friday, March 23, 6 to 8:30 pm
& Saturday, March 24, 9 am to noon

1912 Center Fiske Room, 412 East Third Street, Moscow
$15 two-day-minimum registration at door

Workshop description, agenda, & contacts: WildIdahoRisingTide.org